Comments:

Even though I think spelling out the 3 teaching units and one service unit could be handled better at the local level by saying "the equivalent of 4 teaching units in consultation with your chair".

The language faculty in my department were all strongly in support of the proposal.

I'm glad to see colleges moving quickly to adopt the teaching professor title.

Would love to see this expand to all Colleges and all RTE positions.

This will be a better and fair outcome for RTE faculty. The downside is that in the long-term it makes it easier for universities to move away from tenure track faculty.
